DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's Amendment filed 10/08/2007 has been entered and carefully considered. Claims 1-10 have been canceled. New claims 11-18 have been added. Limitations of new claims have not been found to be patentable over prior art of record and newly discovered prior art, therefore, claims 11-18 are rejected under the new grounds rejections as set forth below.

Claim Objections

Claim 15 objected to because of the following informalities: "said file" should be changed to --said film--. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 11-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nakamura et al in view of Molinario (USP 3,835,867) and Betrabet et al.

With regard to claims 11-13, Nakamura et al discloses a wig assembly (fig. 1, 2) comprising a cap (10) having an inside surface. The inner side of the cap has an adhesive coating. Nakamura et al. does not disclose the adhesive as being polysiloxane and a plurality of flexible elastic fabric strips (col. 2, lines 6-8) affixed across the inside surface of the cap. Molinario discloses a similar wig assembly (fig. 1) having a cap (10) with a plurality of fabric strips (16) affixed across the inside of the cap. Betrabet et al. disclose that it is known in the art to use polysiloxane adhesive to adhere articles to the skin and hair because it can be peeled off with little or no pain and leaves no appreciable residue (col. 1, line 65 through col. 2, line 6). It would have been obvious to one having an ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ strips as taught by Molinario into the cap of Nakamura et al for the intended use purpose and it would also have been obvious to use polysiloxane adhesive with the wig of Nakamura et al. as taught by Betrabet et al. in order that the wig be peeled off with little or no pain and leave no appreciable residue. Regarding claims 14-16, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use between 100 and 300 g/m² polysiloxane coating, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233. In regard to claims 17 and 18, Nakamura et al in view of Molinario and Betrabet et al. show a plurality of wefts supporting hair thereon and a plurality of strands of hair implanted directly onto the strips (at 19, see fig. 1).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 11-18 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
